Background

In the favelas (slums) of Brazil thousands of people live without proper sanitation or clean water. Waterways are contaminated and disease is rampant.

City water is provided but the quality is poor, connections are improvised and service is unreliable. Brazil is currently suffering with the worst drought in decades. In the cities, any precious rainwater is wasted and flash flooding causes frequent damage.

In Jan 2015 a local contractor evaluated the bakery site (belonging to the ministry) and informed us that uncontaminated mineral water from an aquifer is within reach at a depth of 250ft.

If we can successfully harvest this water it will be used in the making of bread at the bakery and filtered for drinking water at the project..

WELL PROJECT

THE NEED

To create a sustainable and clean source of water for the ministry of CBC .

HOW?

- Contracting a local company to dig 250ft and frame a well.
- The company will also install an electric pump to extract water to a storage tower.

THE COST

The approximate cost of all this work is $12,300

THE RESULT

A clean water supply to both the bakery and the project, benefiting over 220 children, staff and the bakery business on a daily basis.

Donations

Your help will make a tremendous difference for these children who come from extremely difficult conditions in their homes and community.

Donations to this project may be made to The Channel at the address above or online www.THECHANNEL.org through Pay Pal.
